What Is a Non-metallic Referee Whistle Used For?

A sharp whistle signal carries across a playground or sports field far better than a raised voice. Teachers, coaches and referees use it to start and stop play, signal a foul or the end of a round, and call a class together quickly during outdoor lessons, relays and timed drills.

Because the whistle is non-metallic, its plastic body stays comfortable to hold whatever the weather, and the shatterproof material stands up to being dropped on hard ground. Since the mouthpiece goes in the mouth, give each teacher or referee their own whistle, and wash it regularly in warm soapy water, rinse it and let it dry before the next session.
