What Is the 250ml Plastic Wash Bottle Used For?

A wash bottle puts a diluted solution exactly where it is needed, whether that is rinsing skin, wetting a dressing or rinsing equipment on a bench. The riser tube draws liquid from the bottom of the bottle, so a gentle squeeze produces a steady stream without removing the cap. The 250 ml size fits in one hand and on a dressing trolley.

The product's instructions set out a simple routine. Write the contents, the dilution date and the expiry date of the solution on the bottle, and make sure the seal is watertight. Rinse the bottle thoroughly before filling it again, and between two different dilutions clean and disinfect it with a 0.5% detergent-disinfectant solution for medical devices, made up as 25 ml, one stroke of a dosing pump, in 5 litres of water.

Supplier

ScienceLab, the trading name of Jain Scientific Equipments Private Limited in Ambala, Haryana, supplies this wash bottle to hospitals, clinics, laboratories, dealers and importers. It can be added to an order for other ward utensils or laboratory plasticware so that one quotation covers the lot. The company profile gives more background.
