Description :

Safety Pin Medium Size (Product Code: SLE/MU/03) is a general-purpose medical safety pin used to secure wraps and bandages in wards, clinics, first aid points and health programmes. Nursing staff and first-aiders stock it because the medium length of approximately 40mm suits most bandage widths, and the nickel plated brass construction gives a smooth pin with a covered point. It is supplied by Jain Scientific Equipments Pvt Ltd (ScienceLab), Ambala, India, as a lab consumables supplier in India.

What Is the Medium Safety Pin Used For?

A safety pin is the simplest way to fasten the free end of a roller bandage, close a triangular bandage used as a sling, or hold a wrap in place over a dressing. The clasp covers the point once the pin is closed, which makes it safer to leave on a patient than an open pin. At about 40mm, the medium size is long enough to pass through several bandage layers while staying small enough not to catch on clothing.

When pinning, slide a finger between the bandage and the skin so the point never touches the patient, then close the clasp fully. Keep pins in a closed container on the dressing trolley or in the first aid kit, and discard any pin whose clasp no longer locks. Hospitals, schools, workplaces and relief programmes typically buy them in bulk to restock first aid boxes and ward supplies.

Supplier

Safety pins are part of the medical utensils range supplied by Jain Scientific Equipments Private Limited, whose trading name is ScienceLab, from Ambala, Haryana. Hospitals, NGOs, schools, dealers and importers can order them with bandages, dressings and other ward items on one enquiry. The ScienceLab profile explains more about the company.
