Description :

Simple Respirator (Product Code: SCL251/026) is a three-ball breathing exerciser, also known as a lung exerciser, respirometer or respiratory exerciser, used to make inhaled airflow visible in biology, physiology and health-education settings. When the user breathes in through the mouthpiece, the PE balls lift inside the ABS chamber, so breathing effort can be seen at a glance. It is supplied by Jain Scientific Equipments Pvt Ltd (ScienceLab), Ambala, a laboratory instruments supplier in India.

What Is the Three-Ball Breathing Exerciser Used For?

In a classroom, the exerciser gives students an instant picture of airflow during inhalation. A slow, deep breath through the mouthpiece lifts one, two or all three balls, and learners can compare how many balls rise and how long they stay up after rest and after light exercise. The activity links neatly to lessons on the lungs, the diaphragm and the effect of fitness on breathing.

For hygiene, each user should have their own unit or mouthpiece, and the exerciser should be kept clean and dry between sessions. It is presented here as a teaching and general-use item; ScienceLab makes no clinical or therapeutic claims, and anyone using it for health reasons should follow the advice of a qualified healthcare professional.
