Description :

Biomolecules (Product Code: SCL474/0194) is a laminated wall chart used to introduce the main classes of molecules in living things — carbohydrates, proteins, lipids and nucleic acids — in school and college biology labs. Senior secondary students use the 75x100 cm polyart chart to link chemical structure with biological function when they first meet biochemistry. It is manufactured by Jain Scientific Equipments Pvt Ltd (ScienceLab), an OEM manufacturer, at its own factory in Ambala, India.

What Is the Biomolecules Chart Used For?

The chart is most useful alongside the food-test practical, in which students detect starch with iodine, reducing sugars with Benedict's reagent, proteins with the biuret test and fats with Sudan III. As each test is carried out, the teacher can refer to the relevant group of biomolecules and discuss its building blocks: simple sugars, amino acids, fatty acids with glycerol, and nucleotides.

In theory lessons it gives a steady reference while students learn that enzymes are proteins and that starch, glycogen and fats store energy, which makes it a sensible part of science lab equipment for class 12 biology. Hang it near the bench used for food tests so students can refer to it during practical work. The laminated polyart wipes clean if it picks up dust or fingerprints.

OEM Manufacturer

ScienceLab is the trading name of Jain Scientific Equipments Private Limited, the OEM (original equipment manufacturer) that makes this Biomolecules chart at its own licensed factory at Saha, Ambala, Haryana, India. Schools, colleges, dealers and importers buy factory-direct, and follow-up needs such as extra copies for a second lab are handled by the maker rather than a middleman. For institutional and tender buyers who need vendor registration details, the company's GSTIN is 06AAECJ8618A1ZT and its Legal Entity Identifier (LEI) is 3358004H
