What Is the Flower Pattern Oven Glove Used For?

In home-science and food and nutrition teaching, this glove is used to carry cake tins, baking trays and hot serving dishes from the oven to the bench. Staff rooms and hostel kitchens use it the same way. Its 90 cm length spans a wide tray comfortably, and the 20 cm width covers the palm and fingers of each hand.

The polyester wadding slows the flow of heat, but it does not make the glove heatproof, so lift hot items briefly and set them down on a heat-resistant surface. Keep the glove dry and well away from open flames, and replace it once the wadding has flattened or thin spots appear.

Supplier

ScienceLab, the trading name of Jain Scientific Equipments Private Limited in Ambala, Haryana, supplies this flower-pattern double oven glove for home-science departments, hostels and staff kitchens. It can be quoted together with the rest of a school's lab and classroom list, which saves arranging a separate kitchen-supplies order. We deliver across India and to international markets; learn more on our profile page.
